TOP-1.1.1-16-JN1-2017-00003

The Town Council of Jászkiás has made a decision of establishing a spatial planning by the length of Apáti Road in the northern area of the town. The aim of the planned investment is to help the development of local companies and to attract industrial investors to the outer part of the town's interior by deploying a basic infrastructure. The implementation of this new industrial area indirectly allows to create new workplaces which helps the inhabitants of Jászkiás to find employment in town, supports employment increase and retention directly or indirectly, and assists to improve labour-power mobility conditions. The venue of investment: Jászkiás, Apáti Road 10. (Lot No. 2137/7).

This project is an economy-stimulating investment which is an employment increasing infrastructural development established in the outskirts. Emission of greenhouse gas (GHG) is minimized, or preferably reduced, and renewable energy is also used in the planned development.

The aim of the City Council is to make the ideal conditions for the industrial area of Jászkiás to provide the possibility of advanced operation of newly settled companies in the town.
